Washington, Nov. 15 — (AP) — The new draft bill will have a 100,000 men in the military service in January, 1951, but it is not yet clear how many will be taken from possible duty in the army.

The Chinese and Korean war has not fighting on our training camps. The 50,000 men in the army in September have not yet taken their 14 weeks of basic training. The selective service system yesterday to provide 100,000 men in January, 1951, the same number that were in December, but the number being taken this month.

The army said, because the training camps are limited, the number of new men they take care of until some of the older drafted have finished their training. The army is going on with the training of new men, but it is not yet clear how many will be taken from possible duty in the army.

Oklahoma A&M Head to Take Over U. S. Post

Washington, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Dr. Henry Garland Bennett, an Oklahoma educator, will take over direction of the slowly-unfolding Post Four program for helping underdeveloped countries on Dec. 1.

President Truman announced yesterday the appointment of the Oklahoma A. and M. university president as head of the technical cooperation administration in the state department, which is the overall agency for the new program.

On indefinite leave from the university, Bennett is due to take the new post a few weeks before the administration is scheduled to ask congress for funds for a second year of what Mr. Truman launched as a "bold new program." The appropriation for this year was $34,500,000.

Gordon Gray, former secretary of the army, recommended in a special study this week that the project be expanded into a global operation requiring more than $1,000,000,000 a year in grants and loans from the U. S. government and the world bank. However, any such expansion is likely to come gradually.

Little Rock, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Four civil lawsuits charging false arrest of pickets at Arkansas telephone exchanges were filed here today.

Meanwhile, striking Western Electric employees established a new picket line at the Hot Springs exchange of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and began picketing exchanges at Hope and Nashville.

Attorneys for the CIO Communications Workers of America, Division Six, of which the strikers are members, also filed a motion in Pulaski chancery court seeking dismissal of an injunction against picketing at the Little Rock exchange.

The suits filed today grew out of arrest of pickets in Brinkley, Forrest City, Newport and Seary. They charge false arrest, malicious prosecution and deprivation of constitutional rights and ask damages of $25,000 each for five plaintiffs.

Defendants are Police Chief John Moore; Clyde McDonald, J. Williams and H. A. Stephens, Newport; Oran Vaughn, I. B. Van Patton and Riter Stuart, Seary; Mayor Jack Cox, Brinkley, and Fred McCollum, Forrest City publisher.

Pickets also were arrested yesterday at Walnut Ridge. Charges of disturbing the peace were filed against the pickets in all five cities and in Forrest City they also were charged with vagrancy. In Seary, the pickets were fined $50 each, but hearings are to be held later in the other cities.

Continuing their hit and run picketing tactics, the CWA members began picketing in Hot Springs at 8:30 a. m. Hope at 9:15 and Nashville at 10. The Hot Springs exchange was picketed for a time when the strike began last Friday.

The telephone company said about 300 operators are expected to refuse to cross the picket line at Hot Springs by this afternoon. At Hope and Nashville, the company said some operators remained on the job when picketing started.

Chancellor Frank Dodge, who last Friday issued an injunction against picketing at Little Rock, denied the union's motion for dismissal of the temporary injunction. Union attorneys immediately appealed to the Arkansas Supreme court for a writ of prohibition to restrain Judge Dodge from proceeding further in the case and to dissolve the injunction. Judge Dodge's jurisdiction both as to the

Plane Production Reaches Highest Level Since War

Washington, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Industry sources said today that U. S. warplane production reached the highest level since World War II but is still only a fraction of the peak output reached during that conflict.

A census bureau report showed that 3,828,000 pounds of military airplanes were delivered during September. This compared with 2,315,000 pounds in the same month a year ago. It was still only a drop in the bucket, however, compared to the peak of 102,400,000 pounds reached in May 1944.

Employment in airplane plants increased from 166,773 in June, when the Korean conflict began, to 191,649 in September.

U. S. Likely to Bring Up Issue of Formosa

Lake Success, Nov. 15 — (AP) — The United States plans to bring the question of Formosa's future before the United Nations today, but none of America's potential Allies appear willing to pick up this political dynamite.

A spokesman said the U. S. wants to get the opinion of other nations on what to do with the big island — last ditch headquarters of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime and focus point of a furious political battle in the United States.

Chiang's government and the Russians already are on record regarding that Formosa is Chinese territory and not a subject for U. N. discussion. Russia's Jacob A. Malik said that although the Soviet union considers discussion of the question illegal, his delegation would have something to say on the subject.

But spokesmen for several other nations made it clear that they have no intention of expressing any opinion at all until after the U. S. explains its policy in regard to Formosa.

The question is scheduled for debate in the 60-nation political committee today as soon as a vote is taken on a resolution calling for the return of Greek children, kidnapped during the civil war, to their homes.

American sources said the state department still was working on 11th hour policy revisions and even after the question comes up formally today, it would keep an open mind.

They recalled, however, that Secretary of State Dean Acheson had previously suggested the formation of a U. N. commission to investigate the future of Formosa. This commission would study whether Formosa ought to be left to Chiang, whether it should be handed over to Red China, whether it should become a semi-independent U. N. trustee ship or whether it should revert to its pre-war relationship with Japan.

The more cynical of U. N. diplomats said privately that the only result they could foresee from the commission's work would be the elimination of the Formosan question from the U. S. political scene for a while.

A large body of American opinion insists that Formosa be included in the U. S. defense network, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur has suggested. President Truman's administration, however, leans to the view that the U. S. at present cannot undertake the indefinite guarantee of the Pacific island.

Newsman Told to Do More Reporting

Atlanta, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Newspapersmen were urged today to use more initiative in reporting and stop accepting at face value the flood of "handouts" from government press agencies.

A criticism of government press releases was contained in a report to the 17th national meeting of the Associated Press managing editors association. The report was prepared by a sub-committee on domestic news. V. M. Newton, Jr., of the Tampa Tribune, is sub-committee chairman.

Newton's group called for more initiative in probing behind handouts to get all the facts — not just the facts that government agencies want to give the public. The convention, expected to draw a record 500 managing editors from throughout the nation, opened business sessions today. It will continue through Saturday.

The newsmen will discuss, criticize, commend and compare notes on their papers' own cooperative news service — the Associated Press, largest agency in the world for the gathering and distribution of news.

Russell Brines, who heads the AP's Korean war staff, was today's principal scheduled speaker. Brines is chief of the AP bureau in Tokyo and accompanied General MacArthur on his trips to the Korean war front.

The veteran war correspondent said in an interview yesterday that Americans are hoping to avoid war with Communist China while, brant.

DOROTHY DIX Coward's Weapon

Dear Miss Dix: About two years ago I met a young girl about my age and became very much infatuated with her. After knowing her only two weeks I asked her to marry me. She accepted. We could not afford to marry immediately and in six months I was tired of her and told her I did not want to keep company with her any more. She threatened to kill herself if I left her. That frightened me, so I broke down my resistance and I kept on going to see her. A number of times since then I have tried to break off with her and when I do she always makes scenes and says she will take her life if I give her up. Shall I marry this girl and sacrifice my life in order to secure her happiness?

ALBERT

Answer: If you knew anything about women, you would know that there are a million chances to one that her threat of killing herself is nothing but a bluff, and that she has no idea whatever of even injuring a hair on her head.

Method Has Worked

Tears and threats of suicide are the coward's weapons that women have used on men since time immemorial, and before which men have surrendered even to this day. Millions of men have been floated to the altar on the tears of women they did not want to marry. Millions of men have been terrorized into marrying women they loathed by the women flourishing revolvers or reaching for the poison bottle when the poor dumb males tried to make a getaway. The real shotgun marriage is not staged by outraged fathers. It is pulled off by astute femmes who are out to get their man.

It is only masculine vanity that causes a man to believe that it will break a woman's heart to lose him, and that without him life will be so valueless that she will throw it away. Most women's hearts are constructed of rubber instead of glass and stand a deal of punishment. The proportion of girls who die for love is so negligible that there is no cause to worry over any tragedy resulting from your backing out of an engagement you should never have gone into.

Of all the terrible mistakes and useless sacrifices that men and women ever make, the greatest is that of marrying, when they have ceased to love. No man can be a good husband if he is miserable and feels that his wife has forced in reality, the war already is underway.

"The American public hardly realizes — and it must realize — that the fighting in Korea is now a large-scale war against Communist China," Brines declared.

"United Nations forces already Korean armies, but still must fight their way to the Manchuria and Siberian borders to achieve victory."

"And 90,000 Communist Chinese troops block their way. Many more thousands Communist reinforcements, and military stockpiles, are massing just across the border where they are now immune from UN attack."

General MacArthur has asked permission to order planes across the border and bomb these reserves. "Personally," Brines comments, "I cannot see how — militarily — we can expect our front line troops to continue against an enemy building reserves with immunity."

The war correspondent added, however, that the UN should remain ready to negotiate a settlement with the Chinese, if it can do so without weakening its position.

One member of the domestic news sub-committee, Charles A. Hazen of the Shreveport (La.) Times, submitted a separate perhazardous report in which he accused the AP of left-wing bias. Hazen cited 55 cases.

a woman's club, attended several meetings and card parties, all of which I enjoyed very much. Now my husband refuses to let me go to meetings or to attend any social activities. I have no outside interests and I feel as if I should have something to do to occupy a little of my time after my housework is done. Do you think I am wrong in asking for this little bit of freedom?

Answer: I certainly do not, and I think that your husband does not understand how cruelly tyrannical he is or else he would not withhold this bit of personal liberty from you. Just ask him how he would like it if the tables were turned and you refused to let him belong to any club or to spend an hour or two every week or so with a group of men. Just ask him how he would like to be shut up in a house all day with only his own thoughts for company and nobody to swap a bit of gossip with.

The wise man encourages his wife in belonging to clubs and in going places and having as many interests outside of the home as possible. This keeps her young and broad-minded and entertaining. She is a far more agreeable companion of an evening when she opens up the little budget gossip she has gathered during the day than is the woman who has nothing to talk about but the high price of butcher's meat and how big the gas bill was, and how troublesome the children are, and the new car the Smiths have and why can't he make money like the other men. So for his own sake as well as his wife's I warn every bridegroom against making a doornail of his wife. She will always be there, but he will get so tired of her after awhile.

Dear Miss Dix: I have adopted an illegitimate child. What should I tell it about its parents? R.K.E.

Answer: Tell the child before it is really able to understand the full significance of it, that it is an adopted child, and that you took it because you wanted it and loved it and because its parents could not take care of it and had no home for it to live in.

Let the matter rest there until the child begins to ask questions and then answer them as vaguely as you can, and soften all threats as much as possible. But don't lie to the child. Children never forgive having been deceived.

The Marshall plan still pumps them aid. OEEC still operates. It has made some progress toward better economic cooperation among its members. There are 18 of them: Britain, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy, Portugal, Ireland, Iceland, Denmark, up of delegates from the member countries, meeting in public. The committee of ministers has the whip hand, can still pretty well decide what the assembly can discuss. The assembly can discuss not much more than a debating society yet. The assembly delegates can Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Austria, Greece, Turkey, Western Germany, the American Republic of San Marino, and the British zone of Trieste. The European Economic Community was created by OEEC so its members could trade more easily among themselves. It's a money plan for helping the members pay one another for what they buy and sell without getting into too much of a jam by being loaded down with a short of, one another's currencies.

Unisean. Britain and the Scandinavian countries — Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Iceland—formed a kind of limited customs union. It has removed some restrictions on payments between them and has set up committees to study further cooperation.

Customs union. France and Italy made an agreement in March 1949, on eliminating trade restrictions between themselves. This hasn't gone into effect yet.

Schuman plan. In May, 1950, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman startled Europe by suggesting a method he hoped might help Europe economically and end some of the ancient tension between some of the nations.

The Western German republic. Military — Treaty of Dunkerque. On March 4, 1947 Britain and France signed a 50-year military alliance.

Brussels Pact. On March 1, 1948 Britain, France and the three Benelux countries — Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg—signed a 50-year military alliance. This Brussels pact is also called "Western Union."

North Atlantic Pact. Signed April 4, 1949, by these 12: United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg, Iceland, Denmark, Norway, Portugal, Italy. They agreed to an armed attack on one was an attack on all.

The U. S. urged this, has been pumping arms into its Allies. Moving steadily toward closer alliance the members now are near setting up an international army, made up of troops from all — protect all. Supreme command probably will be a U. S. general.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 15 —(P)— A slow demand for rough and milled rice brought few price changes at southern markets this week, the U. S. department of agriculture's production and marketing administration said today.

Farmers have about completed harvesting in Louisiana and Texas and should finish some time this week in Arkansas. Most rough rice has been sold or placed in

Miss advanced quotations some of the most important varieties of milled rice slightly week.... But demand was quiet since most domestic distributors were well supplied for current needs and export trade was light.

Political —
Council of Europe. Opened Aug. 1, 1949. Set up to discuss Europe's problems, find ways of solving them. Something like a parliament. It's divided into two bodies: (A) A committee made up of the foreign ministers of the member countries, meeting in secret; and (B) a consultative assembly made
